

Home

CoinBase

One of the most reputable bitcoin exchanges available, Coinbase is popular among fans of the 'dollar cost averaging' method, where users can automate bitcoin purchase every week or month. It is a no-fuss platform for just bitcoin buying and selling.

Binance

Binance is a popular Chinese cryptocurrency exchange, which is popular for its crypto to crypto exchange services. While the company is still fairly new on the market, it has managed to gain a lot of popularity thanks to its impressive number of Initial Coin Offering listings, but also due to its low trading fees.

CudoMiner

Cudo is a team of miners, techs and entrepreneurs. We're passionate about creating good with technology and we see blockchain and cryptocurrency as an amazing opportunity to do this. Our aim is to make a positive impact in the world for good and for technical change.

NiceHash

NiceHash was founded in 2014 and is now the world's leading cryptocurrency platform for mining and trading. They known for a next-generation tools and platforms for cryptocurrency miners and traders.

Cex.io

CEX.io is one of the oldest Bitcoin exchanges around. It started out in 2013 in London as a Bitcoin exchange and cloud mining provider. At some point its mining pool, known as Ghash.io, was so big it held 42percent of the total network mining power.

Kraken

A trading-focused bitcoin service provider, Kraken appeals to bitcoin traders as you can leverage and even short on the platform. They are very reputable and was one of the first bitcoin exchanges to pass an independent audit.

